

Collecting on Covid-19 in the Jewish Community Yoel Finkelman and Shuli Berger

Description: The novel coronavirus (COVID-19) impacted the global Jewish community in ways that were perhaps unique. Throughout the world, librarians, archivists and historians began collecting artifacts (both digital and physical) that documented this experience. This talk will address some of the discussions that surrounded these collecting endeavors, as well as the challenges of archival collection in the face of pandemic.

Dr. Yoel Finkelman is Curator of the Haim and Hanna Salomon Judaica Collection at the National Library of Israel.

Shulamith (Shuli) Berger is the Curator of Special Collections at the Mendel Gottesman Library of Yeshiva University. She blogs at <https://blogs.yu.edu/library/>
